

"C'mere til I tell ye" is a new festival gracing Dublin City during Science Week 2022.

We have stunning events in comfortable and cool surroundings where public guests will be informed and entertained through engaging and thought-provoking shows, discussions and demonstrations.

"Why do we only look after the good looking animals? Are we actually living in a simulation? What's in my makeup and should I care as long as I look fab - u - lous!?"

If you don't – well sure lookit
